

Basement Design Trends: Industrial Chic

H18: 1726 Juliet Ave | Designer: Katie Jaydan
Project Type: Basement

In the Industrial Chic trend, designers repurpose an old building by using complementing or appeasable contrasting design elements. Exposed ductwork and pipes, original windows and brick are all part of the look with metal, concrete, brick and glass as surfaces of choice. Plus, this trend works with all the others.

Note: Since this is a trend and trends change, designing to this style may affect future resale value (negatively or positively)*
